Pastor's Pen

By Rev. KyungMo Koo

What a build up, 2008!

When we reflect on the ministry of 2008 at Moore's Chapel, it was a memorable year for the Moore's Chapel family. God has a special vision for Moore's Chapel. We believe God has called us to move forward in another chapter of mission and ministry. For the last six years Moore's Chapel has been praying and planning for a way to enhance our ministry by improving our facilities. We completed another step in God's vision as we added the Underwood Education Building.

This year, we faithfully completed the construction, almost finished our first pledge, led many fundraising events, and celebrated a Consecration service. We now have more space, allowing us to create better opportunities to worship God, share in fellowship, and serve the community. It is our honor and joy to have an opportunity for establishing God's vision for providing a better facility for the children, youth, and adults of the Moore's Chapel family and the wider community.

God has allowed us to have a variety of mission and ministry, and many opportunities to serve people near and far. As usual, year 2008 at Moore's Chapel was very full and well rounded as we sought to serve God and to love Jesus Christ in many ways: through Worship, Mission, Christian education for all ages, Bible studies, and a variety of Fellowship events.

We finally finished our construction this June. Now we can see His invisible plan in tangible and visible reality before us. On our land of 2 acres, we built the new Educational Building (11,900 square feet) with many rooms (5 classrooms, 1 nursery, 1 toddler room, 1 kitchen, and 1 multi-purpose room).

We not only finished the new Underwood Educational Building, but also completed the extra work put forth by volunteers in our congregation. The Prayer Garden, extra bathroom on the second floor, gym stage, curtains, and new audio/video system were equipped by the commitment of many people, especially by our two young men, Nathan Ramberger and John Bartoletta, who successfully finished the Church Garden (west side of the church) and basement renovation (we have 3 more classrooms, pastor's office, and library) as their Eagle Scout Project. We are very proud of their accomplishment and really appreciate their commitment to God and His church.

September 28th, we celebrated our Service of Consecration. Through and by the faithfulness of God, Moore's Chapel is opening a new chapter of history with a new facility. We invited family, friends, and community, and shared our joy in having completed our Underwood Educational Building. It was a time to thank and encourage each other before God. We thanked and praised God who let us finish our construction job safely and successfully. We all really enjoyed the moment of blessing with celebration; words from guest speakers, special music, fellowship time, tour of the new building and prayer garden, and even a silly dance with the children.

In 2 Chronicles 6:18-21, King Solomon's prayer of dedication for the Jerusalem temple gives us a clear indication of how to understand our new church building. On one hand, the temple was just a building, since God is too big to contain in any building. On the other hand, it was the place God chose to bless with His presence. Thus, the temple became a holy symbol of God's presence.

Moore's Chapel now has a big educational building beside its beautiful church sanctuary. It is true that we built a wonderful church building; we don't have to worry about the lack of space any more, and we have a great opportunity to carry out another level of mission and ministry. We thanked God who allowed us to have this precious opportunity to build His building.

However, we need to remember the Psalmist's confession: "Unless the Lord builds the house, they labor in vain who build it" (Psalm 127:1). If what we build or accomplish is not for the Lord, if it is not for His glory, if it is not by prayer and supplication given to Him, then it is in vain. We strongly believe our new building is God's plan and that He built it. We built the house of the Lord with total dependence upon God's power and we now want to use it for the glory of God. Under the guidance of God, we have built a beautiful building that pleases and is blessed by God, a building where God dwells.

We clearly recognize that the completion of the new building is not the end of our mission and ministry. More assignments are still ahead of us! We must build our lives in all areas with God and for God, not only at church, but also in our everyday lives, as we begin our mission and ministry at the new building for the days ahead. We need more prayers, faithfulness, commitment, and sacrifice for this. We have hope in Jesus Christ that Moore's Chapel will continue to grow in spirit as well as in number. We pray that our loving God will continually bless Moore's Chapel's mission and ministry this coming year of 2009.

In Christ's Love,

JoyShop Ministries is coming to Moore's Chapel for a 2-day event

Friday, April 17, 7-8:30 P.M.

Saturday, April 18, 9 A.M to 3 P.M.

Under the leadership of Anita Keagy, this ministry exists to encourage and motivate men, women and youth to "SEEK GOD FIRST" on a daily basis.

JoyShop Ministries is based in Lancaster County, PA but carries its message throughout the United States. Keagy recently led a workshop at Youth Quest, a Brethren in Christ teen event in Washington, D.C. The ministry goes to churches, youth groups, conferences, Christian colleges, retreats and prisons.

Keagy studied at Messiah College and with Anne Graham Lotz, Billy Graham's daughter.

Men and women and youth in grades 6 and up are invited to attend. Registration and a fee of $15.00 is required. This covers materials and honorarium. This program is sponsored by Moore's Chapel and Elkton Presbyterian Churches. Refreshments and lunch will be served.

Flyers, forms and more information to come by the end of February. You can log on to www.joyshop.org to learn more about JoyShop Ministries.

Ashley Ramberger's Gold Award Project

I have been approved by the Girl Scout Council to begin my Gold Award project. For this project I will be painting a mural in the toddler room of the Underwood Educational building. This mural will consist of a country scene and Bible verses that correspond with the different aspects of the picture. In order to meet my requirements of leadership, I will be asking for help from several people-toddlers to teens. For example the toddlers and young children will help me paint flowers along the bottom of the mural with their hands. The older children and teens will help me paint the mural itself. Please keep an eye out for dates as to when I will need these volunteers. If you feel moved to help me complete this project, please call me at 610.932.8011 and I would be glad to discuss the details with you. Most of all I ask for your prayers to complete this project.

Thank you ~ Ashley
